Finding efficient, effective solutions to studio and location problems is vital to the success of any shoot. Working professionally in the Austin metro area since 1996, I have experienced a variety of photographic situations. Building walls, excavating a car, and recovering images erased in the field are a few problems I have faced. Formal and informal training has given me a real world edge. Managing a busy studio has given me the ability and confidence to tackle any complicated task. I have extensive experience with location and studio photography. Whether digital or conventional, my knowledge and experience will be a positive addition to your group.

Thank you for your consideration,

Chandler Prude
